RE: Recommendation for Jet Research

In 2016, we engaged Jet Research to assist us with the technical acceptance of five (5) Bombardier Q400 aircraft from United States that were being added to our fleet. Jet Research acted on our behalf to review the maintenance records on the aircraft, manage the overall project and liaise with our management team and the lessor's team.

We found Jet Research to provide competent and professional service. They are well versed in the industry standards and practices pertaining to aircraft acceptance and lease return exercise. The Jet Research team identified and caused correction of many items within the records and physically on the aircraft that could have cost Jazz Aviation either lost revenue or problems at the lease return stage of operating these aircraft. They also provided guidance by identifying commercial items that did not meet contractual obligations by the lessor and offered solutions for the same.

Our engaging Jet Research allowed us to continue operating our airline with no interruptions and know that our interests were being looked after by an organization that specializes in such matters. I highly recommend Jet Research for lease acceptances and returns, as we have also been on the other side of the table from them, which led us to engage them in the first place. Please feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions about our engagement with Jet Research.

Sincerely,
